Any student, whatever their level of attainment, may experience a difficulty at some stage in their school life needing support to access and progress through the curriculum at an appropriate pace. Early identification of students who need additional support is essential to enable staff to provide effective learning experiences for individual students.

Assessment should not be regarded as a single event but as a continuous process. Thomas Telford School will be responsive and open to expressions of concern by parents/carers and take into account any information parents/carers provide about their children. Some students may also raise their own concerns about their progress which will be considered, treated seriously and followed up appropriately. Thomas Telford School is aware of Parent Partnerships Service and parents/carers will be offered advice and support as and when appropriate.

It is acknowledged that the request for support for individual students can occur at any time. The identification of need can come from any one of a number of sources. For example:

- Subject Teacher
- Personal Tutor
- School Nurse
